PASTORAL MINISTRY

ABOUT

The School of Theology and Ministry is here to equip student to pursue their call to ministry. While God calls us in different ways, and to different types of ministry, we believe that there are some essentials that need to be a part of any good preparation for ministry. At SNU a solid academic core of classes in Scripture, theology, church history, philosophy, missions, and practical theology is integrated with practical hands-on ministry opportunities in our Ministerial Intern Program.

Students are well-equipped for ministry in whatever context and particular calling God is leading them. Our graduates serve around the world as lead pastors, children and youth pastors, worship pastors, missionaries, chaplains, founders of non-profit ministries, denominational leaders and religion professors, just to name a few. However God is calling students to serve, our majors of Pastoral Ministry, Youth Ministry, Missions, Theology or a Multidisciplinary degree will equip them to pursue the call.
